The Great Winter Sales in Progress, Are the Talk of the Town

There Is an Electrical Knife

Used by cutters in Shirt Waist Factories that will cut twelve hundred layers of silk at one time, with such rapidity and so perfectly that the old claim of superiority of single cutting has emptied itself.

Think of it—100 dozen cut as quickly as one waist.

It is not surprising then that a fine silk Crepe de Chine Waist can be sold at $2.00 or the finest of styles around the five dollar mark that, to make, would cost twice, yes, thrice as much.

All Winter Suits Out By Thirtyfirst

By actual count we have 35 suits—of the finer sorts, that'll make choosing good when you can pick from such ultra-fashionable styles with prices halved and less.

Six velvets, three corduroy, and the others are chiffon, broadcloth; Black, few navy, plenty greens and browns.

$35 Suits YOURS FOR $15.

$50 Suits—YOURS FOR $20.

All higher—YOURS FOR $25.

Small sizes only 14, 16 and 18's; 36 and 38 bust measure.

FUR HUNTING IS GOOD

When you can pick from guaranteed furs with a fourth of their prices gone.

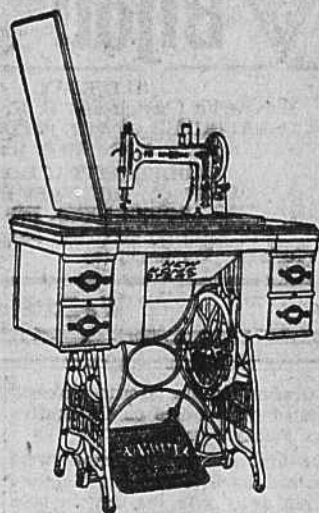

All the black lynx, skunk, foxes and Hudson Seal in our Salons—four of the greatest favorites among the furs this winter—have new prices on just where they will be most welcome, and the vanity of styles among the neck pieces of these four furs is still very large.

In muffs you may have the barrel, melon or pillow shapes. Uniformly reduced ONE FOURTH.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Mock Cherry Pie.

One cup cranberries seeded (cut across as you would an orange and shake in a colander, seeds will fall out) and washed, one cup sugar, one-half cup raisins seeded and chopped fine, one heaping tablespoon flour, mix well, then add one and one-quarter cups boiling water and two teaspoons vanilla; let stand on back of range (not allowed to cook), until you have two pie tins with a light, airy crust; divide equally fruit and liquid into two pies; bake as mince or berry pies.

Supper Dish.

A novel and tasty way of serving frankfurts and tomatoes for either a supper or luncheon dish is as follows: Put about a tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, and when melted add one can of tomatoes, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a small amount of red pepper and one whole clove. Take one pound of frankfurts and remove the skin and one-half the onion and tomatoes, cover and cook ten minutes. Serve with baked potatoes.

Advertise Our Advantages

(By G. W. Dudderar, Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Trade.)

To successfully promote and solve the problem of local development, each of you must consider it as you do your individual business. What would it profit a manufacturer to erect a modern plant, equip it with the best up-to-date machinery and produce the best of a needed product, if he stored it in his warehouse and let it go at that?

This community has something to sell; dwelling houses, vacant building lots for more houses, stores, warehouses, factory sites for more new plants, merchants and manufacturers to be patronized and professional citizens to consult, a destiny to determine and bequeath to our posterity. The shelves of our municipal warehouse are filled with the commodity called local advantages.

This stock has to some extent been covered with the dust and cobwebs of non-exploitation and the general public know nothing of these valuable commodities. It is up to us to let it be known and the dissemination of this knowledge to the outside public can be effectively done through your board of trade.

In these modern days of civic competition it is up to us to keep the handle of the big front door of that warehouse polished and the dust and cobwebs banished, and the world advised of the quality, nature, and utility of the “local advantages” by advertising and exploiting them as we do in our own private business affairs. For what is true of it is equally if not in a greater degree true of our community's interest, for, without active co-operation neither can thrive and hence the campaign for local promotion and development is no longer optional, but forces itself, by reason of its necessity upon every thoughtful and progressive man.

A CARD OF THANKS.

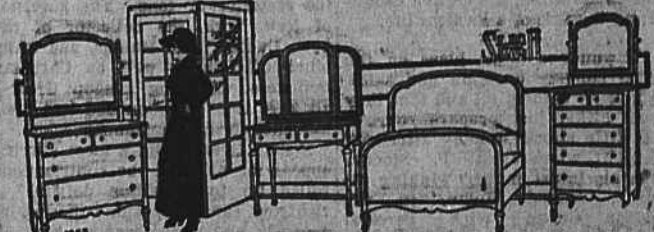

We desire to express our sincerest thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their assistance and sympathy at the time of the tragic accident and death of our dear little girl, Georgia. Also for the many beautiful floral tributes.
